NOTE FROM THE 149th IMA COMMANDER

SECTIONS UPDATE:

Subject: Distance Drilling Credit

The following article written by Dewey Dyer, CAPT USNR appeared at the following Web site:

<http://call.army.mil/call/fmso/wbil/wbil.htm>

CAPT Dyer can be contacted by phone at 303-677-4245 (w) 303-617-3160 (h) or e-mail dddyer@cospo.osis.gov. CAPT Dyer will need a military resume or an ORB or 201 file (Army) EQQ or OQQ (Navy) in order to consider you for this program.

“This letter will introduce you to a new way of doing business in the Military Reserves. We seek participants to earn drill credit by telecommuting work on the World Basic Information Library (WBIL) project. The WBIL is a project to build an electronic research library using the Open Source Information System (OSIS) and other internet resources. The OSIS is an intelligence community Virtual Private Network (VPN) with access to the internet.

Employing internet connectivity, it allows reservists to telecommute and prepare intelligence products for use by all source analysts, deploying units, and the law enforcement community. About 85% of what is needed in the intelligence business is unclassified, and can be exploited by qualified military reservists working remotely. We are the cutting edge of the way we'll be doing business in the 21st century. The WBIL has over 110 remotely located people from all four branches of the service doing "virtual" production utilizing OSIS connectivity and their home Personal Computers (PCs). In other words, working at home using your PC to conduct research on assigned areas of the world for retirement point credit, just as if you were attending non-paid drills.

There is tremendous interest in this program and concept at the national level. The project is sponsored by COSPO (Community Open Source Program of the Foreign Broadcast Information Service). I am on the staff of the Commander, Naval Reserve Intelligence Command (COMNAVRESINTCOM). The Army's Foreign Military Studies Office (FMSO) functions as operations manager and training coordinator.

Each branch of service has its own method of reporting drills. For example:

USNR members are attached to the RIA14 IVTU 0108 UIC at NAS Atlanta, GA.

USAR members are attached to the FMSO UIC at Ft Leavenworth, KS.

USAFR members report through the AIA.

USMCR members will be attached to a MTU to be created with FMSO.

In each case, retirement point credit is earned. If you are an IMA status reservist - participation in this project will not affect or interfere with that status. Work with the WBIL project will be done as a person's drill responsibility for four drill points per month. This will not, nor do we intend it to invalidate any existing annual training opportunities, requirements or obligations. All new members that demonstrate an interest and commitment in the project will attend a three day training session at Ft. Leavenworth. These are scheduled monthly.

This is an excellent opportunity for military members who wish to participate in a program that is a model of how we'll do business in the future. To participate in this unique project can be personally and professionally rewarding.

All branches of the service have the vision of a virtual future; WBIL participants are doing it in practice.

We presently are looking to expand at this time with members from each branch of the service, regardless of rank or specialty, each brings their own unique perspective to the table. We need you as an additional member in order to give more depth to our present areas of interest (Africa, Latin America, China and Transnational Threats) and to begin expansion to other areas of the world. "

EDUCATION DOCUMENTATION KEY TO USAR OFFICER PROMOTIONS

This article originally appeared at <http://www.army.mil/usar/arperscom/arpercom.htm>

Officers preparing for promotion to the rank of captain or above can plan for their board by making sure required documents are in their file well in advance of board dates. This includes submitting proof of a baccalaureate degree and appropriate military education with board packets. Examples of acceptable documents include transcripts, diplomas and certificates from educational courses.

The requirement to submit proof of both military and civilian education was established with the Reserve Officer Personnel Management Act in October 1996. Officers must meet both military and civilian education requirements in order to be properly considered for promotion to captain or above.

Proof must be submitted to the Office of Promotions, Reserve Component along with officers' board packets if the Official Military Personnel File (OMPF) fiche provided does not accurately reflect these educational requirements. Officers are cautioned not to rely on entries in the Officer Record Brief or DA Form 2-1 because these forms are not acceptable for verification of the education requirement.

Files which do not have the required documents are deemed Not Educationally Qualified (NEQ). Officers with an NEQ status are ineligible for selection for promotion. Officers are encouraged to update their OMPF on a regular basis, well before they are scheduled for DA Selection boards. Copies of critical documents should be provided to career managers at the Army Reserve Personnel Command, for USAR officers, or to the State Area Commands (STARCs) for Army National Guard officers for update to the OMPF.

Officers should also verify that these documents are provided to the promotion board by reviewing their OMPF. Documents missing from OMPF should be sent directly to the board along with the officers' promotion packets. Officers should note that providing documents to the DA Selection Board does NOT update the OMPF.

LOGISTICS OPERATION CENTER SOP

Anyone reporting for duty in the Logistics Operations Center (LOC) should find a copy of the standard operating procedure (SOP) manual at their desk. The SOP was written by the 149th IMA Detachment to document LOC operations. It covers the standard requirements as well as such things as where to find supplies and how to get computer equipment to work. This SOP is especially useful during the night shift when more experienced LOC personnel are often not available for guidance.
